

Dates for 'Small Fry Adventures' family outings announced by DNREC's Division of Fish & Wildlife

Outdoor programs upcoming at Aquatic Resources Education Center

SMYRNA – DNREC's Division of Fish & Wildlife invites families with young children to come out to the Aquatic Resources Education Center to enjoy an exciting lineup of "Small Fry Adventures" this summer. Programs will be held 10-11:30 a.m. Tuesdays, July 23 and 30, and Aug. 13, at the Aquatic Resources Education Center, 2520 Lighthouse Road, Smyrna, DE 19977.

These events are geared towards youngsters ages 4 to 7 who might be curious about fish and other animals that live in the tidal saltmarsh. Kids will also have a chance to view marine life in the center's aquariums and make a simple craft and art involving crabs and marsh animals.

To ensure enough supplies are on hand for these free programs, pre-registration is required. To pre-register for "Small Fry Adventures," or for more information about the program, please email Mary Rivera at mary.rivera@delaware.gov or call 302-735-8689.
